BOOK SELECTION

The main goal of the Montana Talking Book Library is to supply people with books they enjoy. Are you getting the titles you want to read? Here are some things you can do to help us meet your reading needs:

1. Whenever possible, DO YOUR OWN SELECTIONS from the wide variety of catalogs available. Read the annotation in the catalogs and decide if this is a book you might like.

2. Work with your Reader's Advisor to identify the titles, authors or subject areas you enjoy. If you want to add or delete an author, title or subject area, let us know!!

3. If you do not find a specific title or author in the catalog, check with us to see if it has been recorded. National Library Service records about 150 new titles a month.

4. Remember the titles are chosen from your request file chronologically. The requests you sent in last year get chosen before the one you sent in last week. If you read several books a week, you will need a larger request file. However, if you read two books a month, it will take you much longer to get through a large request file.

5. Understand the difference between request and reserve. Most books you ask for will be treated as requests, will be entered into the computer and sent when they are available. If there are many requests for the same book you may have to wait to receive it. However, if there is a particular book you want to read above all others, ask a reader's advisor if you may reserve that book. If copies are available and there are not many people waiting for the book, the reader's advisor will put it on reserve. A book on reserve will go in addition to your regular requests. You may still experience a waiting period; but patrons who reserve a book are guaranteed top priority to receive a copy. PLEASE DO NOT ABUSE THIS FEATURE! Use it only for special purposes so we can continue to meet the needs of all our patrons.

6. If you have any questions CALL. We have no way of knowing you have a problem or a question unless you communicate with us. The toll free number (1-800-332-3400) is there for you to use.

DESCRIPTIVE VIDEOS

The Montana Talking Book Program has descriptive videos to lend to our patrons. A descriptive video is a regular video cassette with a narrator who describes the action during pauses in the dialogue. To play the descriptive videos you will need a TV and a VCR(video cassette recorder). This program is working well and there are several titles that have no waiting list; for example, Terms of Endearment, Pretty Woman, Three Men and a Baby, Beverly Hills Cop, Beaches, El Dorado and several others. Requesting several videos improves your chances of receiving one.

New titles are: Beethoven, Girl of the Limberlost, The Chronicles of Narnia (The Silver Chair), Eyes on the Prize (the Civil Rights Movement from 1957 -1965), PBS's nine part series on The Civil War, Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country, The Addams Family,

Patriot Games, The Mighty Ducks,
Disney's Aladdin, Homeward
Bound: The Incredible Journey,
Honey, I Blew Up the Kids, The Miracle of Life, Last Stand at Little Big Horn, and Amelia Earhart: the Price of Courage.

Please contact us to request videos or to receive a list of what we have available.

GOOD CLEAN BOOKS

When looking for good clean books to read, don't forget the classics of our childhood. Why not re-read Kidnapped or Swiss Family Robinson? If you enjoyed the TV series then ask for the Little House on the Prairie books. The Anne of Green Gables series and the Emily books are also good summer reading.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Regional Librarian Sandra Jarvie and Reader's Advisor Darla Carlson recently attended a conference of the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped in Denver, Colorado. It was an intense and informative week. Librarians from all over the country got together to discuss common problems and concerns with representatives of the Library of Congress from Washington, D.C. One of the highlights of the trip was a talk by Bob Aske. Mr. Aske is a nationally known narrator of talking books. We also had the opportunity to meet other well known narrators who record for Talking Book Publishers, Inc. Before a tour of their recording studios, several narrators, including Jill Ferris, Bob Butz, and Maggie Welch, visited with us and answered questions about themselves and their jobs.

HONORED VISITOR

On May 23rd and 24th Steve Prine, Head of Network Service, National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped) visited the Montana Talking Book Library to evaluate the service and answer questions. Steve was also one of the guest speakers for our volunteer recognition dinner.

VOLUNTEERS HONORED

On May 23, 1994 we held our annual volunteer recognition dinner at Frontier Town. Steve Prine from National Library Service and Pat Dome, President of the Montana Association of the Blind, were the guest speakers. About 85 volunteers, spouses, and staff attended.

Colleen Mockler was honored as the Narrator of the Year. Volunteers recognized for 5 years of service were Vic Richer, Rose Mary Rouble, and Connie Denler. The following people gave at least 200 hours in 1993: Edith Tanna, Mary Nichols, Millie Huxley, Lynn Keltz, Phyllis Herbert, Harry Fay, Jean Schellenberger, Tom Basinger, Kathleen "Cookie" Basinger and Bev Hill. The library depends on volunteers every day and their devotion and hard work is truly appreciated.

FAMILY READING PROGRAM

June 20 to August 19 is the time for the Family Reading Program. The theme this year is "Reading is a Natural" with the emphasis on animals of Montana.

The children may read animal stories or any book they chose. The children are asked to call or write the library to talk about the books they read. Prizes are given at the end of the program for the most books read. 32 children are signed up for the reading fun.

NEW MAGAZINE

Falcon Magazine is a new children's magazine available for loan on cassette. It has articles for children ages 8-14 about wildlife, nature, outdoor fun, and environmental issues. It is published by Falcon Press for the Department of Fish Wildlife and Parks.
